Art is for recreation. Art is for appreciation. Our club aimed to provide the atmosphere and promotion for the social cause and educate the mass about women empowerment with the endorsement of pure art. Thus every year Samavesh gives a platform to the students of IBS and others to showcase their creativity and their love for art and crafts through our event – Handmade Cottage.

Art is a like a poem without words. Every art, every creation strives to tell a story and we try our best to showcase it to everyone. Every year our club also collaborates with the NGO – Sri Aurobindo Society, a kids and women's shelter through which many kids and women are given an opportunity to bring out the creativity in them and showcase it to the masses.

The exhibition consists of various art and artifacts which are completely handmade. Through handmade cottage we also try our best to motivate the budding artists of our college – students and teachers. Every year many students become a part of our exhibition and one can feel the diversified art and culture through this event.

Many of the artists' creations are also put up for sale and many accept orders for the pieces of art or artifacts. Thanks to this event, we are able to raise a hefty amount for various social causes, especially empowerment of women.

In 2016, It was organized on 19th December and the footfall was approximately 500. The faculty members, students and the staff of IBS were equally interested as this time along with organization, 47 students and 2 teachers took actively participation in showcasing their art and

OBJECTIVES

"NEW AGE CORPORATE WOMEN" was conducted by various successful women entrepreneur from different domains to share their experience on their journey in setting career in their respective domains and creating employment opportunities. Women empowerment has impacted the world in a manner that has led to a transformation of the social ideologies that were prevalent regarding gender inequalities. Women have entered into all the fields with enthusiasm, for which they were denied earlier. The role of women has evolved over the years and paved ways for ambitious and independent women. Through the developments that have been occurring in the industry women are proving themselves to be better managers when compared to men. May it be striking a balance between household and work life or being mentally stronger if not physically, they have proved themselves in all aspects. This will provide courage to all the people who wish to start something new.

ORGANISED BY

The event was organized by CWD and Club Aaina, IBS Hyderabad.

PARTICIPANTS

The students of IBS Hyderabad, MBA Program participated in the event.

OUTCOME

The event conducted provided motivation to the students, especially the girls who are willing to start something of their own. The ideas, challenges and the solution to these challenges discussed by the speakers, from their own experiences guided the students and gave them a clearer picture of what was required if they wanted to start a business. The idea that women have entered all the fields and have successfully bought a change in the society was spread among all the students. These path breaking stories of successful women entrepreneurs will provide courage to the upcoming generations. The students understood what it takes to start a business and how a small idea can also act an inspiration to start a business. The challenges faced by the speakers will help the students understand what should be avoided while starting a business and how can problem be solved effectively. The inspiring stories of the guest speakers also highlighted that not all will be in support of you when you want to do something but it is the courage and the passion in you to do something of your own that matters. Through this platform the students also got a chance to interact with the speakers and clarify any doubts regarding their ideas. It also helped them to discuss their ideas about starting a business and provided a better understanding and how to frame their ideas in a polished way. The students were also able to connect with the speakers on various social media platforms for any guidance or suggestions for their ideas in the future.

2. MANAGERIAL DISCUSSION

Date of Event: 5th November 2017

Topic: Will You Marry Rape Victims

INTRODUCTION

The managerial discussion was conducted by CWD and Club Aaina on a sensitive issue that needs to be addressed on an urgent basis, keeping in mind the number of rapes increasing. The women who go through this traumatizing situation are not to be treated as victims for their entire life but as someone who also had their dreams and aspirations in front of them, that they wanted to achieve and do something for their own. The thinking of the society has to be changed and people of the society have to be taught to treat everyone equally and not distinguish or consider them different on the basis of the situation they had to suffer.

OBJECTIVES

The event was conducted with an aim to remove all the misconceptions people hold with them with regard to rape victims. To help them understand better that what they go through could is not just physically but also mental pressure. A way to remove the differences in opinion people hold towards them. A way to show everyone is special and unique in their own way and no situation can change that for the. The right support, courage and motivation can help cross all the boundaries that they thought are closed for them.

HYDERABAD

OUTCOME

The initiative taken by CWD and Club Aaina was an eye opener for everybody who thought that distinguishing people on the basis of situations they had to face not only added to their mental suffering but also compelled them to hide their pain within themselves. It emphasized on letting people know that what happened to them was something that even they were not ready to accept and blaming them for their situation is no good. Instead, we need to help them recover from the situation and make them realize they are no way inferior to the other women in the society. Through this the men in the society are also made to realize that there is no distinguishing factor between a women who is pure and not pure. Every woman is the same and situations do not define who they are. The event also helped to clear the misconceptions people have in their minds. The women when provided with support and someone to help them through this difficult phase of their life can again start to live life the way they wanted to live without being judged by anyone or falling into the biased opinion of people. The courage of these women is also highlighted. Marrying a victim of rape is not something to be ashamed of but rather something to be proud of, as a new chance or a new direction to life is given to these women. The women who once thought nothing was left for them in this world. The women will have someone to share their thoughts with and can be open without the fear of being judged by anybody. The women can feel more confident about themselves because going through a situation like this often affects your self – confidence and the way you feel about yourself, even though it was something that occurred without your will and the woman is not to be blamed. The society we live in often distinguish them on various factors but purity of a woman is something that comes from within and cannot be damaged because of the situation. This is something everybody in the society must realize and try to incorporate within themselves.

ORGANISED BY

The event was conducted by CWD and Club Aaina, IBS Hyderabad.

PARTICIPANTS

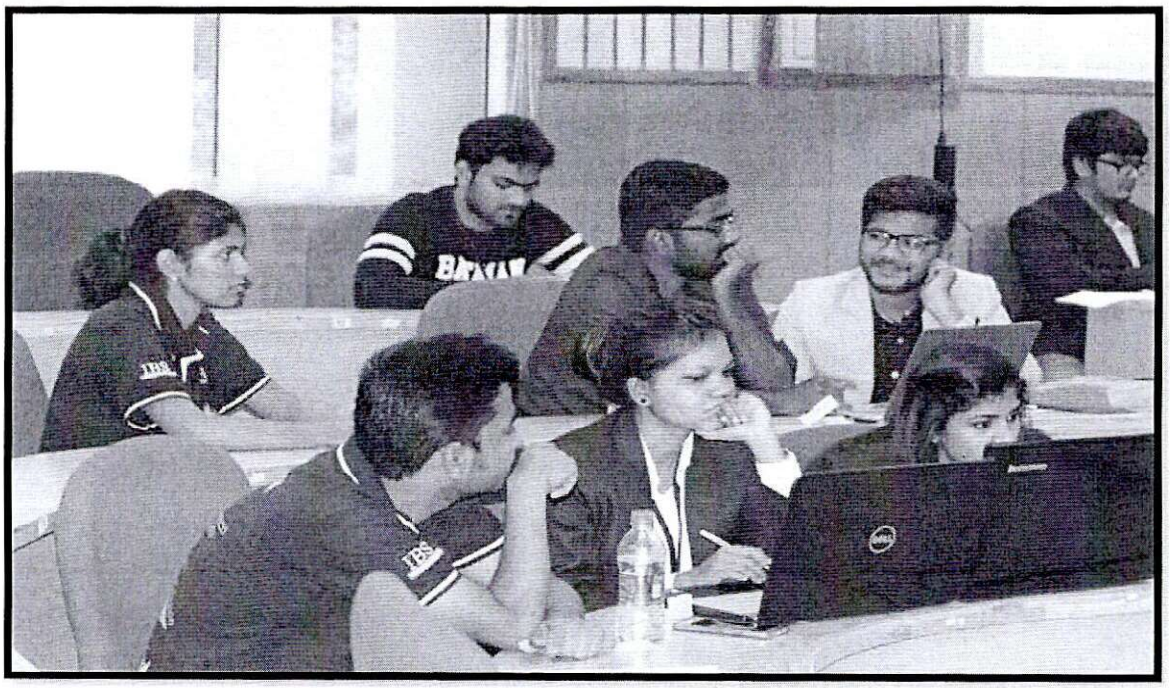

The students of IBS Hyderabad belonging to different clubs participated in the event.

OUTCOME

The event conducted was successful and it was a break for the students where they could enjoy themselves and also learn at the same time. The event conducted was out of the curricular activities which gave them an idea about the various dimensions of the society. The event was conducted within the premises of the campus and through this the students got an opportunity to interact with their fellow mates. The event was designed in a way that would not only be enjoyable but also include a lot of thinking and answering questions in a practical and realistic way. As the event was conducted within a stipulated time the stress level among the students was increased to finish the task in time and also not be eliminated during the process. This imbibed stress management, time management and problem-solving skills among the participants. This will also be platform where they could identify where they stand and work on those areas, which will be helpful during their work life. Taking part in these club events also helps the students belonging to the happy club develop an understanding of how a club works. The participation helps them to interact with different people improving their interpersonal skills, making new friends and also learn from the ideas of others. Most importantly through the participation they understood how the relations among the various clubs are maintained. The participation in the event gave them an idea of the various women development activities that they would not have paid attention to earlier. They take back with them a bucket full of ideas and new concepts. INTRODUCTION

A Talk Show was organized on the topic "Inspirational Stories by Inspirational Women of This Country", where our guests shared their experiences and inspired the audience to work hard to achieve their goals in life. The guests highlighted the various challenges faced by them and the times they did not receive any support, were made fun of and how they overcame all these situations to successfully stand where they are today. The mentioned that everybody can do anything and it's not necessary to always have people supporting you in the decisions you make. A few decisions have to be made on your willingness to make yourself feel better each and every day.

OBJECTIVES

In today's fast paced world, everyone looking for ways to perform better in each thing they do. The ups and downs faced and how to handle them are things which concern us the most these days. A little motivation and inspiring stories are what we look for to be able to perform better than our expectations. The event conducted just does the same inspiring stories by people who are here to share their success and failure but show that nothing is impossible.

ORGANISED BY

The event was organized by CWD and Club Aaina, IBS Hyderabad.

PARTICIPANTS

The participants of the event were the students of IBS Hyderabad and from outside IBS (if interested)

OUTCOME

The participation in the event helped to realize that not everything you dream of can be accomplished in day but, it takes a lot of courage and dedication irrespective of the failures you have to overcome. The stories of these inspirational people show us that where there is a will there is a way. Being students the task that is of utmost importance to us is studies, to get placements and do a job that you like It is also understood that all of these do not come to us easy. Dedication and hard-work have to be put in. At times the motivation to do anything is lost and that's when such stories form people inspire and provide the much-needed push to us. The spirit of I can do it makes us want to achieve more and more. Such stories show us that when you really want to do something and accomplish something nobody can stop you from doing it. There might be instances when nobody likes the idea of what you are doing but believing yourself is really important. This shows no matter what you have to keep on trying and be a better version of yourself each passing day. Towards these things will surely pay off and nobody can stop you towards success and demotivate you for your choices in life.

Topic: Sexual Harassment of Women in The Workplace

INTRODUCTION

The topic sexual harassment of women in workplace needs to be discussed on an immediate basis with the growing number of women coming forward in different domains. The rights of the women and how to handle situations that are inappropriate in the workplace needs to be made aware to them.

OBJECTIVES

The event conducted was to create awareness among the women about the existence of various rules and regulations that exist in an organization and how they can be used to protect themselves. To make everyone realize that workplace is a space where in everybody should be respected and there are clear boundaries among people that should not be crossed irrespective of the gender.

ORGANISED BY

The event was organized by CWD and Club Aaina, IBS Hyderabad.

PARTICIPANTS

The participants of the event were the students of IBS Hyderabad.

OUTCOME

It was an insightful session that focuses on a widely discussed topic sexual harassment that women go through in most of the places. Inappropriate looks, comments etc. are something's woman deal with on a regular basis. To avoid such things at the workplace organizations come up with various rules (POSH) to protect the employees at the organization. The event helped understand the various rights that the women in the organization can use to avoid any such circumstances. Since most of the students including girls will be entering into their dream organizations, this becomes even more important to address. At times woman might not be aware about the existence of such laws and might continue to tolerate whatever is happening to them. An early and clear understanding of these rights will help them be organization ready and also help them feel more confident and instill a sense of security in the organization. This was also an eye opener for the students who thought that such rules never existed. A clear understanding about how they work from an experienced person clears all doubts and helps to clarify any doubts that the students might have. Discuss any concepts that are not clear or also understand why a few rules what according to them is right are not mentioned by the company. An interactive session before entering the corporate world will be something that might not be possible for them once they step in to the world of business. The event conducted was of great help to the students and provided them with a better picture of what needs to be kept in mind during their work-life.

1. GUEST LECTURE

Date of Event: 15th June, 2017

Keynote Speaker: Ms. Laxmi Agarwal

INTRODUCTION

A guest lecture on 15th June, 2018 was organized by the club to support a movement against acid violence which deemed necessary to curb this heinous crime. Club Aaina organized the event to support the "Stop Sale Acid" campaign started Laxmi Agarwal in her battle against this heinous crime. Our esteemed speaker shared her survival story which is an inspiration to many. Her zeal and enthusiasm to fight for what is right has been a guiding light to many other brave survivors. "He threw acid on my face, not on my dreams. He changed my face, not my dreams," as said by Laxmi Agarwal, an acid attack survivor.

OBJECTIVE

The whole intention behind the event was to support the movement started against the sale of acid in the market to curb the crime against women. The event also highlighted the initiative to open eyes and hearts towards acid attack survivors and bring light to their unheard and untold stories.

Another objective was to restore their equal footing in the society by understanding their plight rather than shunning them.

1. RAINBOW FORUM (GENDER SENSITIZATION FORUM)

Date of Event: 18th September, 2019

Time: 4PM onwards

Keynote Speaker : Patruny Sastry

Topic: Is Gender a Social Construct?

INTRODUCTION

CWD and Club Aaina conducted the guest lecture on gender sensitization on 18th September, 2019. The esteemed guest for this lecture was Patruny Sastri. The event started at 4pm and was completed by 6pm. The title for the guest lecture conducted was "IS GENDER A SOCIAL CONSTRUCT". The event took place in the auditorium hall where many faculties and students took part. The lecture was of great value since it created awareness amongst the IBS crowd regarding gender sensitization.

OBJECTIVE

The main objective behind conducting this event was to create awareness amongst the IBS crowd regarding the sensitivity which arises when we consider the LGBTQ + community. Since the implementation of the article 377, the LGBTQ+ community have received legal rights in our country. But they are still far ahead of gaining social acceptance. To show support for this community, CWD and Club Aaina have come up with this idea for conducting the guest lecture. Acceptance in India is still a very long process. And this process of acceptance begins only when we start putting effort. Hence, with the help of this guest lecture, the club wanted to educate the students of IBS Hyderabad regarding normalizing all genders in the workplace. In MBA, students are prepared for the corporate world. While they work there, it is very important that they respect the sense of awareness and acceptance. Another objective for this guest lecture was also to create awareness among the future corporates regarding normalizing working with people from the LGBTQ+ community.

PARTICIPANTS

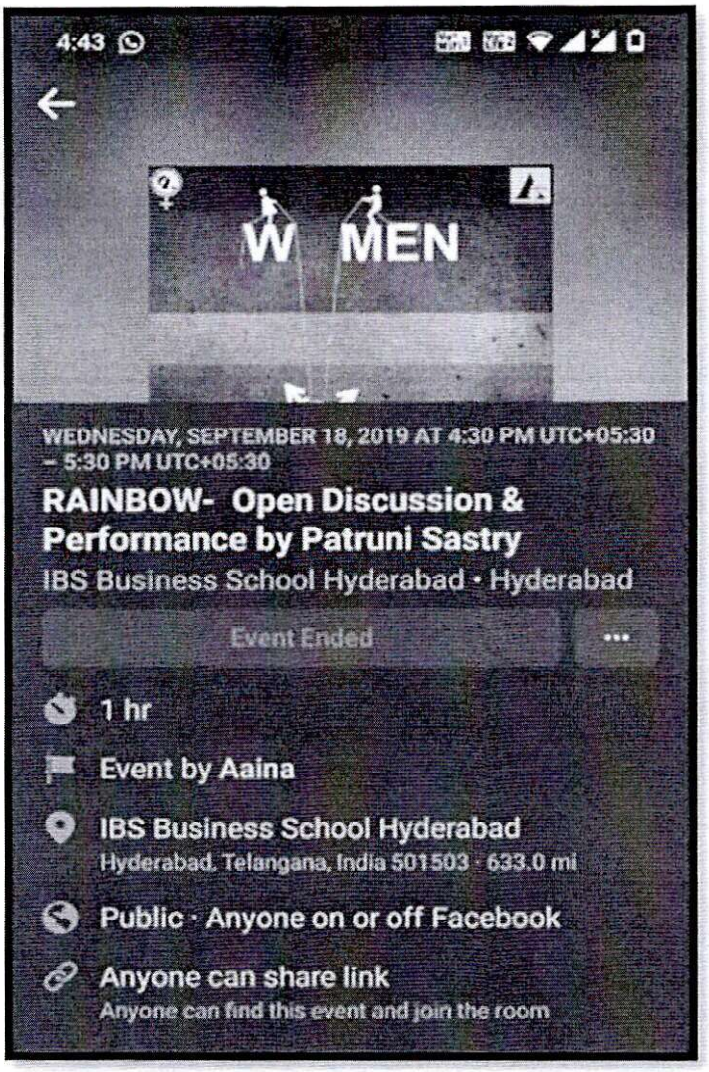

The total number of participants who joined the events were 200 along with 10 faculty members.

OUTCOMES

The guest lecture was followed by a pride parade in which the students of IBS, Hyderabad participated. They were enlightened by the thoughts and views of the speaker. Students were given an idea about the LGBTQ+ community and how they have to face adversities in this society. They were enlightened and taught how one can make others feel comfortable in a workplace so that the ease of work is not hampered. They were taught more about the importance of acceptance and love. The main motive of this lecture is to show that we must accept all the colours of the rainbow just the way they are. The pride parade was a great success. People came together to show their love and support for the rainbow. The guest lecture and the parade, both were a great success. It proved that there are always platforms open for people to express who they are.

We often come across news reporting women going through sexual harassment. In order to prevent this the budding corporate leaders of IBS Hyderabad were taught about this phenomenon and also were taught how to tackle this situation if they ever come across one. Being in a workplace, it's very important that we maintain a safe space for all the employees working there.

OBJECTIVE

The main objective of the event was to create awareness among the students regarding workplace harassment. Apart from creating awareness, they were also taught about the ways of tackling them. If they come across such a sensitive situation, they should know how to overcome it. Workplace harassment is common to every gender. The notion that only women are facing this problem is wrong. Men in corporations also come across such issues. Another main objective of this workshop was to break such notions and educate students about the types of harassment that employees often come across like sexual, verbal etc. giving a prep talk to the students was very important they step their foot into the corporate world.

ORGANIZED BY

This guest lecture was conducted by Centre for Women Development and Club Aaina - the official social awareness and women development club of IBS Hyderabad.

PARTICIPANTS

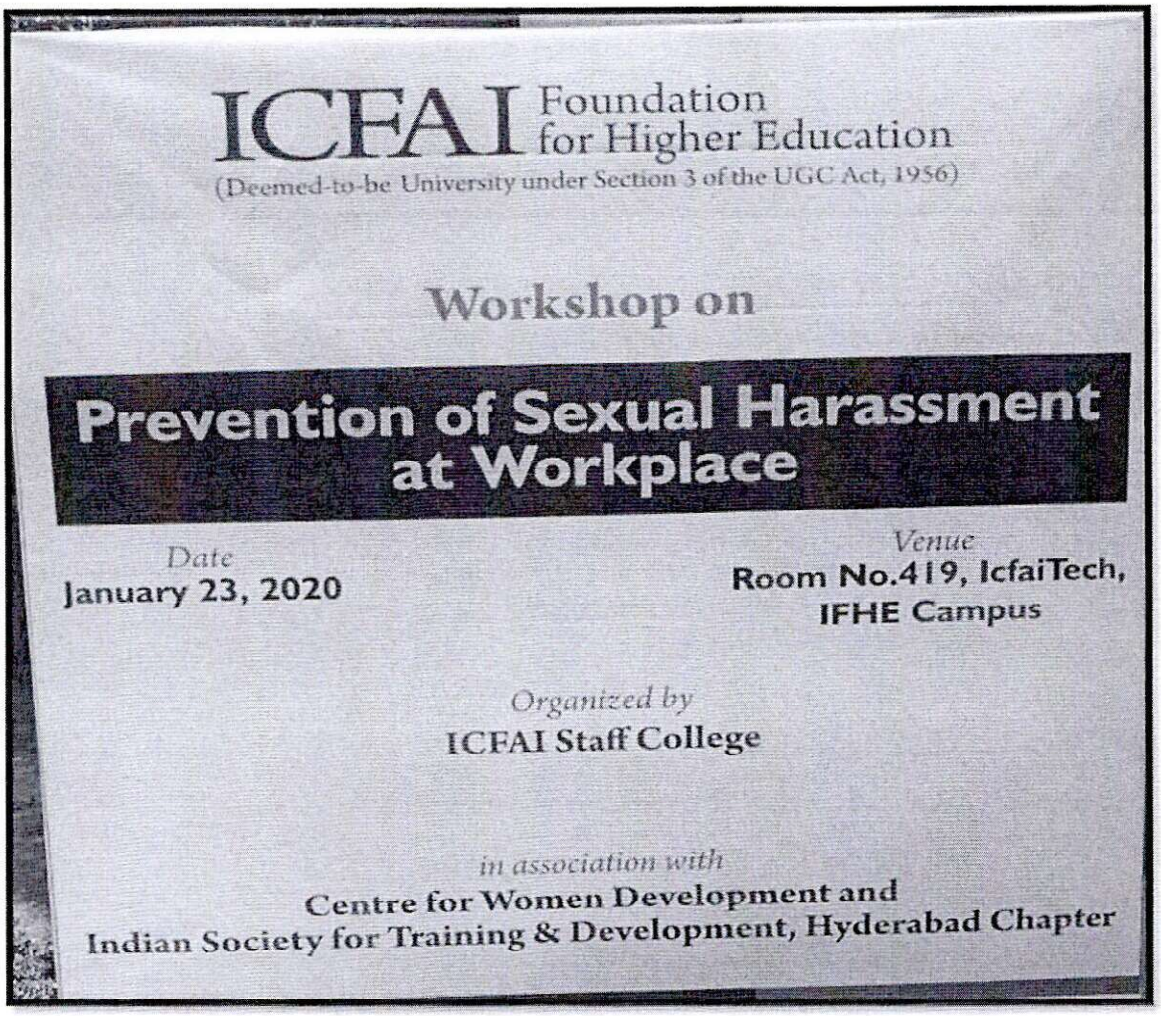

The total number of participants who joined the events were 250.

OUTCOMES

The workshop was successfully conducted. The students were given a heads up about the harassment situation prevalent in a workplace. They were taught what to do if they ever come across such a situation. The major highlight of the event was the speaker sharing real life experiences he has come across in his corporate journey. Students were also introduced to the sections under Indian Penal Code under which they can file complaints for themselves or for their colleagues if they ever face such harassment. The main outcome of this workshop was to teach the students that they shouldn't remain quiet about such issues. It's very important that they raise their voice in order to help themselves and others. Raising

Gender issues are the most common issues in major countries including India and America. People have to face a lot of problems when it comes to gender acceptance. LGBTQ+ plus community has not yet been accepted by the people of our society even after it's been years of passing the article 377. While working in a corporate, MBA students face a lot of challenges. Being a manager, it is very important that they know the tactics of handling such complex and sensitive situations.

OBJECTIVE

The main objective of this event was to teach the students the importance of human capital. Employees are the biggest value chain of an organization. It is very important to protect them in order to increase the efficiency of the organization. While we value employees as our biggest capital, we fail to address the issues they go through while working in an organization. Gender and acceptance are 2 sides of a coin. Choosing a gender should be the independent decision of a person irrespective of the gender he is born into. Acceptance is another factor that comes with acceptance. Hence this lecture was conducted to educate people about acceptance.

OUTCOMES

The event was a success. Students came into terms with the fact that every gender needs to be accepted and respected while working in any organization. It is also very important that MBA students should find ways to prevent gender harassment in their workplace as a manager. Strict actions should be taken against such employers who are supporting this sensitive issue. Just like any other individual, the LGBTQ+ community also has the right to work in any organization suiting their academic background. Selection into such organizations should be based on skills and not on the gender they follow. The event taught students about the tribunals where they can seek help if they ever come across such an issue. Employees are the biggest value chain. It's very important that we retain them.

INTRODUCTION

Club Aaina was the student Partner for a Hyderabad Fest organized by Humans of Nirvana. The fest was DragCon 2019 which aims to celebrate LGBTQAA+ community togetherness and gender fluidity. Acceptance regarding LGBTQAA+ plus community is still a very preconceived notion. In order to spread awareness CWD and Club Aaina- The official social awareness and women development club of IBD Hyderabad conducted this event. The event was conducted in the auditorium and was a great success. Many students and faculties took part in this event. The time chosen to conduct this event was during the pride month, in order to celebrate the rainbow.

OBJECTIVE

The main objective behind conducting this event was to create awareness amongst the IBS crowd regarding the sensitivity which arises when we consider the LGBTQ plus community. An individual should have a choice of choosing the gender he/she wants to follow. A gender shouldn't define his skills and talents. It's very important that we come across in terms with the concept of acceptance. MBA students who are going to become managers in future should have the capability to run their team smoothly without any conflict of interests. Hence it's very important for them to understand how important acceptance is.

OUTCOMES

The event was very informative as it paved way into the minds of the students showing them that life has a broader prospect. Students were taught about tackling real life situations and handling problems. They were also taught the importance of keeping an open mentality while working in any organization. As managers we should look after the benefit of the organization as well as our team. Raising a voice against any wrongdoing is very important. LGBTQ+ community shouldn't be judged based on their preferences. They should be evaluated based on tier skills and talents. The parameters for evaluation should be same irrespective of any gender, caste, sex, religion etc. as managers it is very important that we take the right decision in favour of the organization whilst not hurting the sentiments of any team member. This quality was also taught in the guest lecture by our esteemed speaker. The lecture opened our eyes and gave us the assurance that no matter what there are people ready to accept you with open arms.

- Ankit Bhuptani - Public speaker, Human Rights Activist and CSR professional
- Raga Olga D'Silva - an author, filmmaker and voice of LGBT

Link: https://youtu.be/LQ2x5Hszdvs

INTRODUCTION

The panel discussion was conducted virtually by Ankit Bhuptani - Public speaker, Human Rights Activist and CSR professional and Raga Olga D'Silva - an author, filmmaker and voice of LGBTQ+.

Social stratification refers to a society's classification, gradation or categorization of its people into social hierarchy based on criteria of factors like wealth, sex, income, race, education, and power. Social stratification at workplace refers to a system by which workplace ranks categories of people in a hierarchy. LGBTQ+ community especially in the last 20 years, have actively sought to end what they perceive as prejudice and discrimination against them based on their sexual orientation. They have worked at all levels of society to change laws, fight job discrimination and harassment, eliminate homophobia and gay bashing and educate the public about homosexuality and homosexuals. Although many people from the LGBTQ+ community believe they have come a long way toward achieving their goals, others believe they still have much work to do before achieving true "gay liberation."

OBJECTIVES

A panel discussion on Social Stratification at workplace was organized to address the problems faced by individuals belonging to LGBTQ+ people in the workplace. The objective of this panel discussion is to increase the knowledge and sensitivity of participants to specific aspects of LGBTQ+ people life experiences and human rights violations they are facing at workplace. Another motive of the discussion is to increase the capacity of participants and the organizations they are going to represent to reach out to their LGBTQ+ colleagues and build alliances with them and to support them.

7. SOCIAL MIC

Date of Event: 10th November, 2020

Theme: Discussion on Sensitive Topics

INTRODUCTION

Social Mic was a virtual interactive open discussion which was held on the issues that are not frequently addressed in the society. The Issues that were discussed in the event are:

- Domestic Violence
- Child Labour
- Animal Abuse

Domestic violence is violence committed by someone in the victim's domestic circle. This includes partners and ex-partners, immediate family members, other relatives and family friend. Domestic violence can take the form of physical, sexual or psychological abuse. Child abuse is not just physical violence directed at a child. It is any form of maltreatment by an adult, which is violent or threatening for the child. This also includes neglect. When child abuse occurs in the home and the abuser is, for example, the child's parent or caregiver, this is also a form of domestic violence. Animal cruelty involves gratuitously inflicting harm, injuring, or killing an animal. The cruelty can be intentional, such as kicking, burning, stabbing, beating, or shooting; or it can involve neglect, such as depriving an animal of water, shelter, food, and necessary medical treatment.

OBJECTIVES

The main objective of the event 'Social Mic' – Let's talk it out was to normalise taking a stand for Domestic violence, child abuse and animal abuse and to freely express the viewpoints of the participants. The aim was also to bring awareness among the students about these sensitive topics.

Keynote Speaker: Anjita Singh – Mentor at Youth for Global Peace and Transformation

INTRODUCTION

The Guest Lecture "Dream It, Achieve It" was taken by Ms Anjita Singh – Mentor at Youth for Global Peace and Transformation. The guest lecture highlights an important issue which is Work-life balance. It is a term used for the idea that you need time for both work and other aspects of life, whether those are family-related interests or personal interests. The saying goes that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy'. The pressure of an increasingly demanding work culture is perhaps the biggest and most pressing challenge to the mental health of the general population. A Mental Health Foundation survey found that nearly two thirds of employees have experienced a negative effect on their personal life, including lack of personal development, physical and mental health problems, and poor relationships and poor home life. So, this guest lecture is organized with a motive to teach students how to be at peace and happy by having a smart and methodical way to balance both work and play.

7. ONLINE CAMPAIGN

Date of Event: 14th July,2021

Theme: Non – Binary Awareness Week

Link: https://instagram.com/rainbow_aaina?utm_medium=copy_link

INTRODUCTION

The 14th of July is celebrated as the International Non-binary People's Day for the wide range of people worldwide who identify as non-binary individuals. Non-binary identities can include people who identify with partial aspects of binary identities i.e., being both a man and a woman, while others rejecting them entirely and are thus varied. For legitimizing the experiences of queer individuals, it is crucial to have formal days dedicated to acknowledging LGBTQIA+ identities.

OBJECTIVE

Despite facing discrimination only due to gender choice, non-binary identities choose to stand tall with their heads high and possess the courage to fulfil their dreams. With an intention to make people around restrict themselves judging others and admire the confidence and respect the identity of this section of human society, CWD and Club Aaina conducted an online social awareness campaign on different media platforms.

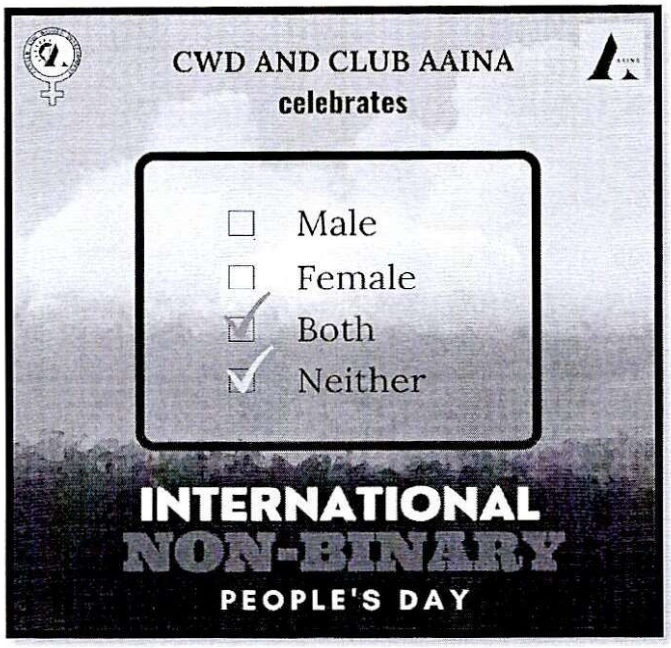

ORGANIZED BY

Club Aaina- the official social awareness and women development club of IBS, Hyderabad.

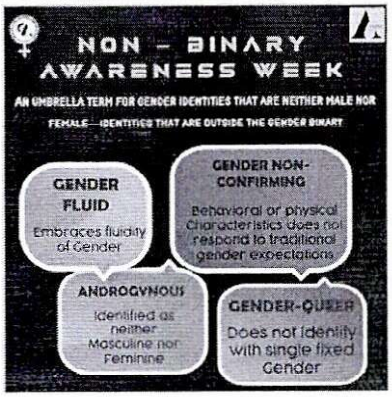

OUTCOMES

With the help of the online campaign organized wherein many posters were floated across social media handles i.e., Instagram and WhatsApp awareness about the Non - Binary Awareness Week was delivered across students as well as members of our society. Through an article on this topic posted on the official LinkedIn profile of Club Aaina the corporate network also was targeted to be aware about this unique day.

Going for a date that falls directly between International Women's Day and International Men's Day to be celebrated as the International Non-Binary Day, the community has certainly sent a strong message to society. In a world where gender recognition laws have a long way to go, the importance of such a day cannot be understated. This day not only celebrates them but also empowers them.

The way people identify themselves is completely up to them, and it's important to be aware of the multiple ways that they do and respect their choice!

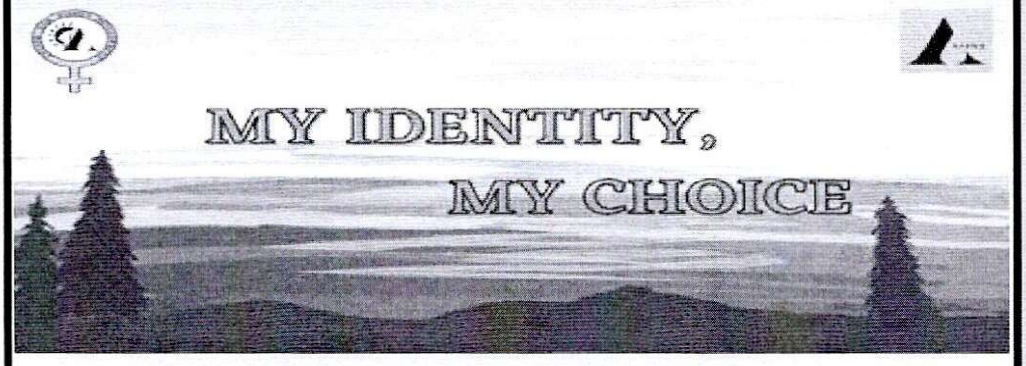

And to the nonbinary folks out there – happy international non-binary day!

PRIDE COGNIZANCE

Transgender is an umbrella term that includes people whose gender identity is different from their assigned sex. It can also includes people who are non-binary or genderqueer.

International Transgender Day of Visibility is an annual event occurring on March 31 and is dedicated to celebrate transgender people for raising awareness of discrimination faced by transgender people worldwide.

TRANSGENDER

Although Indian Supreme court has declared transgender as third gender in order to give them more recognition, they don't actually make up to it. They just identify with a gender different from the one assigned to them at birth but they are as male and female as any other person.

There is no fixed age to identify your gender. Some children genuinely identify with a gender different from the one assigned to them at birth at a very early age.

PRIDE COGNIZANCE

Gender fluidity refers to change over time in a person's gender expression or gender identity, or both. For some youth, gender fluidity may be a way to explore gender before landing on a more stable gender expression or identity.

Most people do classify gender-fluid people as being nonbinary, and many gender-fluid people feel that they fall under the banner of "nonbinary". Every gender-fluid person is different, and every gender-fluid person's experience of gender is different.

GENDER-FLUID

Gender-fluid people can use whatever pronouns they'd like. Some gender-fluid people use they, them, and their pronouns. Others might use she/her/hers, he/him/his, or neopronouns, like xe/xem/xyr.

Gender fluid people who feel that the strength of their gender(s) change(s) over time, or that they are sometimes agender, demigender, and a full gender may identify as genderflux.

11. WEEKLY POST – SOCIAL CHATTER

Date of Event: Every Alternative Saturday

Topic: Facts pertaining to Societal Reforms and Prevailing Issues

Link: https://instagram.com/ibsaaina?utm_medium=copy_link

INTRODUCTION

Contemporary Indian society is flecked with numerous issues that are labelled as social problems. Some of them are age-old, and some are of recent origin that have erupted owing to the change in global socio-political order. A social problem, in general, is the condition which is not ideal and disrupts the balance of a society. A dictionary of sociology defines social problems as, "any undesirable condition or situation that is judged by an influential number of persons within a community to be intolerable and to require group action toward constructive reform". Another widely used definition specifies that "no condition, no matter how dramatic or shocking to someone else, is a social problem unless and until the values of a considerable number of people define it as a problem".

OBJECTIVE

These posters are prepared and floated across social media handles i.e., Instagram & WhatsApp with an aim to spread awareness about the facts and information about general issues/problems occurring in the society or any reforms made to overcome them.

ORGANIZED BY

PCOS: THE UNVISITED FACT

Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome (PCOS) is a complex, broad-spectrum hormonal disturbance affecting the entire body with numerous implications for a woman's long-term health and quality of life.

Almost one fifth of the Indian women (100 million) suffer from this chronic disease. A statistical report by Walter Futterweit shows that 50-75% of women with PCOS are unaware of their symptoms and as a result less than 30% are clinically diagnosed.

PCOS can affect women at any time after their First Menstrual period (menarche) but is usually left undiagnosed till they reach their mid 20s. Around 5-10% of women in the reproductive age group between 12-49 years are affected by PCOS.

Women with PCOS are more likely to develop hypertension and have shown a significant increase in heart related diseases, furthermore developing a threat of Type 2 diabetes by the age of 40.

Women suffering from PCOS should maintain a healthy lifestyle and keep a check on their weight which will help them to increase the effectiveness of the medicines and can help with infertility.

12. Weekly Post – GENDER GOSPEL

Date of Event: Every Alternative Saturday

Topic: Gender Sensitive Facts and Information

Link: https://instagram.com/ibsaaina?utm_medium=copy_link

INTRODUCTION

Gender equality means that all the genders should have equal power and equal opportunities for financial independence, education, and personal development. (Source. See our Website Policy.) Women's empowerment is a critical aspect of achieving gender equality. Girls and women suffer most of the negative impact of rigid gender norms and roles - they are more likely to experience restrictions of their freedom and mobility, they experience epidemic levels of violence and harassment across the globe and have fewer opportunities to choose how to live their lives. But boys and men suffer too. Ideas about what it means to be a man force boys and men to behave in very limited ways which can harm them. Negative masculinities encouraged in boys serve to perpetuate the cycle of discrimination and inequality. Denying people, the freedom to choose their path in life because of their gender prevents them from fulfilling their full potential. There is lots we can do to help build a more gender-equal world. Understanding the deep roots of gender inequality and challenging discrimination when we see it are the first steps.

OBJECTIVE

KEEP CALM AND PUMP ON

"It's not about my right to breastfeed, it's about my child's right to eat"

- A mother

Two women were walking down the street when they came across a mother breastfeeding her infant on a park seat.

"Look at her, breastfeeding in public," one says.

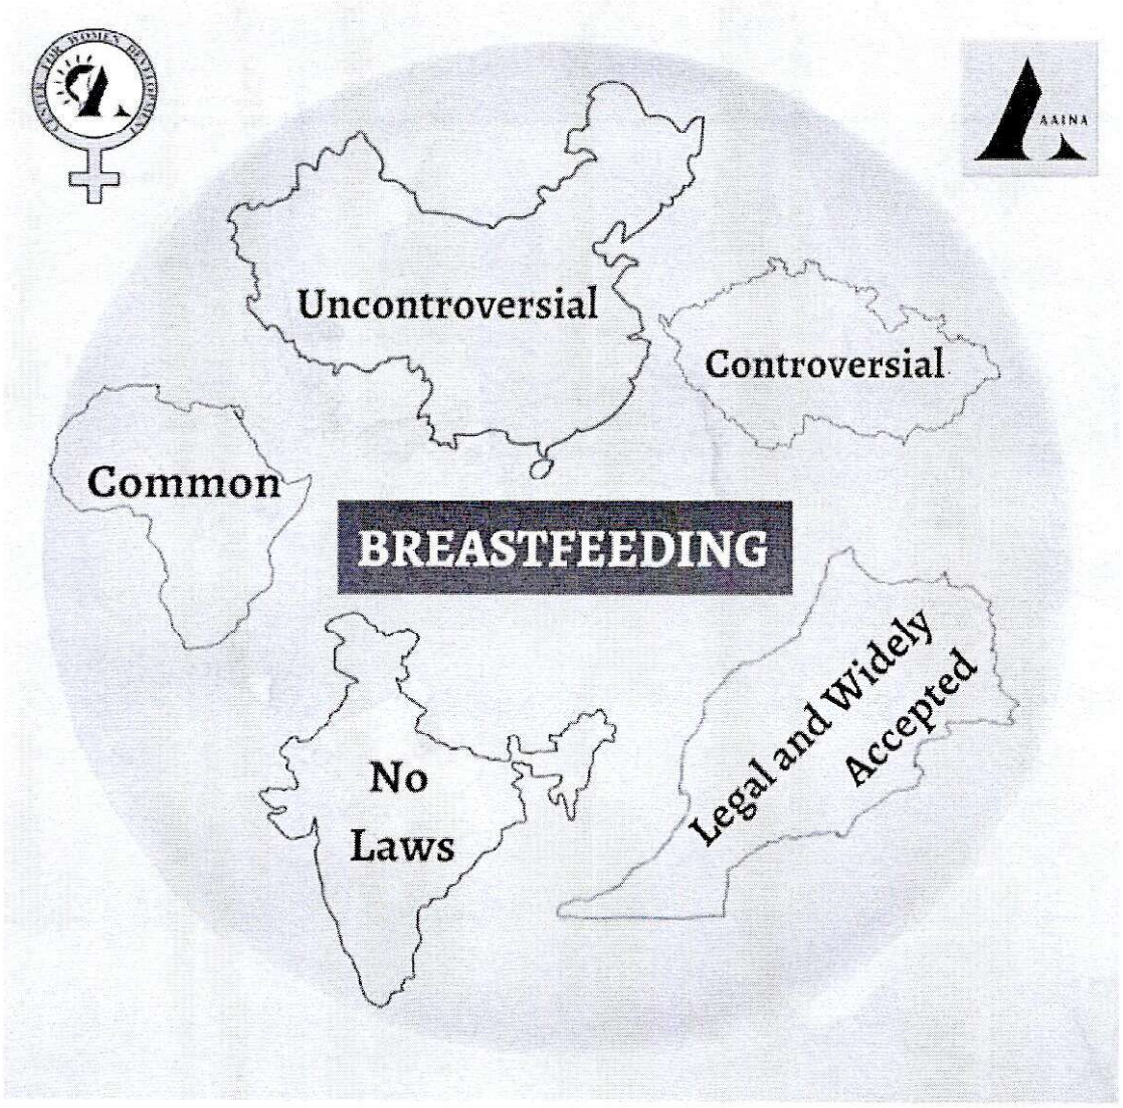

The other replies "Doesn't she feel embarrassed about exposing her breasts?"

Do we get embarrassed when we eat near a random food stall? Then why should a mother be ashamed while feeding her child? The right to food is a basic human right and breast milk is the ideal food for infants. It is safe, hygienic, and includes antibodies that help protect children against a variety of ailments. Breastfeeding is a mother's way to nurture their child. Babies need to feed frequently. However, regularly we see instances where mothers are told to cover up or move away from a public area while they are breastfeeding. Breastfeeding is still treated as something obscene by society.

Many cultures regard female breasts as a sexual organ and hence a private part of the body that must be hidden in public to avoid unnecessary attention or to protect themselves from the eyes of people. But the primary need of the breasts is to nurse a child with breast milk.

Even after the recommendation by the world's scientific community only 39% of babies on an international level are fed during the first 6 months of their lives. Some women have stated that they feel uncomfortable by the idea of breastfeeding in public and other women are choosing to bottle feed. So, what does a society desire? On one hand, women are admired for breastfeeding and people criticize how women are not coming forward to take leading roles in society or complain about how there aren't enough women in our task force. On the other hand, a nursing mother is shamed in public decorum. We as a society always focus on learning new ways to bring out a change but sometimes what we need is to unlearn toxic attitudes. Introducing the normalization of breastfeeding in public places through images and pictures of women of all ages, body types can be a positive step towards reducing [illegible] public behaviour. Making public breastfeeding booths in moving vans to ensure that we provide our mothers with the comfort they deserve while feeding.

India: No law in India addresses nursing. Breastfeeding is an exemption to the rule that women cannot exhibit any part of their body in public.

Africa: Breastfeeding in public is common in many parts of Africa. The nursing mother may protect the infants nursing from view but the baby and the mother's breast are rarely hidden from view.

Morocco: Breastfeeding in public in Morocco is legal and widely accepted.

China: In China, public breastfeeding has historically been uncontroversial.

Czech Republic: Although public breastfeeding is common and not prohibited, some people are against it.

Apart from several countries normalizing, it is a great gesture in the Tokyo Olympics 2020. The committee made an exception for breastfeeding athletes so that they don't have to face the problem of choosing between being a parent or an athlete.

So now the question that arises is how should we react to women breastfeeding in public?

In the same way, we pay no attention to anyone eating ice cream or any kind of food. Breastfeeding is a natural process and we have to be indifferent to the situation. We need to STOP SEXUALIZING, SHAMING AND START NORMALIZING breastfeeding in public spaces.

Respected Sir,
Greetings!

This is to inform and bring to your kind notice that Dr. Md Akbar Khan, Asst. Professor, accompanied 51 students of Icfai Law School, Icfai Foundation for Higher Education to Charlapally Jail on 10th of November, 2017. We are extremely grateful to you for your unprecedented help and cooperation in sparing precious time out of your busy schedule, guiding our students and briefing them on multifarious issues by answering their queries relating to Jail administration, conditions prevailing for prisoners, their wellbeing and requisite reforms.

The students who visited Charlapally Jail were tremendously happy and excited to note that they had first- hand information relating to the lives of prisoners besides knowing the nitty gritty and different nuances of jail administration.

We are really obliged and extend our heartfelt thanks to you. We also extend invitation to you on behalf of the Dean for paying visit to our Icfai Law School, Icfai Foundation for Higher Education for a guest lecture on Jail administration as per your convenient schedule in the next semester commencing from second week of January, 2018. We would further be obliged if you accept our invitation for the same.

Report on Waste management at Khanapur village and Janwada, RR district2017.

Plastic is a biggest menace in the country may it be in the form of polythene bags, bottles or dustbins. Every year we human beings add on to the plastic pollution not only on the land but also into the water, disturbing marine ecology.

The GAIA- The Environmental Club of ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad has organised a plastic awareness campaign at ZPH School at Khanapur, Village and Janwada and trained the students how to use the waste paper for making the dustbins both soft and hard one's. Soft paper dustbins were made by braiding the newspapers and sticking around the plastic cast for getting the shape of a dustbin. Hard paper dustbins are made by making the newspapers into pieces and soaking them in the glue and then using a plastic bin to stick around it to get the shape.

The students of the have taken this idea to the Janwada ZPH School also explained them the importance of waste management. They have practically explained them how to make the durable dustbins by preparing them in the gathering. The number of students participated are 30.

Further the students of GAIA Club, have taken up the reigns to give an alternative to the polythene menace which is plauging our planet earth unknowingly by the human beings. As a consequence of human using the plastics and disposing them in open it ultimately lands in oceans and claims the lives of many aquatic animals. They discussed during their lunch break the menace that ensued and they were also thing of the possible solutions to that single use plastic, that when they came together to prepare the durable handbags using the waste papers like daily newspapers, calendar of previous years, note books etc. which are not usable and were supposed to be thrown. They created the hand bags out of the and distributed to Report on Cleaning Activity near movie towers.

Sankranti is a second of three day Bhogi/Pongal festival in South India which is celebrated in the month of January. On this second day, as a custom, all people use to fly kites. Some people use to fly kites from their homes or in the open places. Earlier these kites were nylon manjhas but now a days Chinese manjhas are used which is fatal when not disposed properly. After the festival news agencies report the deaths or injuries of both humans and animals due to the Chinese manjhas being stuck on the wires and trees. Movie towers area near Nallagandla is an open space with a scenic beauty of rocks of difference structures. That place is used for the kite festival during the month of January. Aftermath the festival that place is strewn with the manjhas and kites. Threads used for the kite flying keep hanging from the wires. Such threads and kites made of plastic cause injury to the human beings who pass by and also to the birds and animals who inhibit that place. From the past reports were also there regarding the deaths due to the manjha threads that hang from the electric wires. Some times it was also found from the reports that due to the accidents some people have lost their jobs being the sole bread winners of the family due to disability happening from accidents and cuts in the throats.

The dedicated team of students of GAIA- The Environmental Club has under taken a cleaning drive at the movie towers area, on 7-2-2018. With a team of 45 members inclusive of three faculty coordinators and students went to that place in the college provided accommodation. Reaching that place entire team got divided into three teams and have undertaken three different areas in that place with gloves to avoid any injury. Each team collected a huge amount of manjhas and kites and collected total of 9 big bags of manjhas and kites and deposited it with the housekeeping personnel's back in college for depositing it with the municipality. During the cleaning drive the student teams have come across the carcasses of birds some of which turned into skeleton and some carcasses were fresh. Other

Report on Save Water and Electricity Campaign

Water and electricity are the most important part of our daily lives and its unregulated usage makes it doubtful for the future generations to avail the benefits of the same in the equal proportions. We as humans have the habit of being careless with the resources that are available freely and abundantly. Generation of young minds should be trained with the value to respect the resources that are available in nature and conserve that for the future. Adults instruct their young children to switch off the lights or turn of the taps when not in use, but as they grow then learn from the actions of the adults who do not practice what they teach, so they also become careless and start wasting the electricity and water.

Water and electricity are the life line of every human being on the earth without which the life of every one will come to standstill. Without the electricity the industries will not run, many commercial activities dependent on the electricity will be stopped domestically the children suffer in studies in the evening times.

Water is an essential element of human being and sustains life on earth. It is used for various activities like cleaning, washing, cooking, drinking etc. It is an abundantly available natural resource provided if used in a reasonable and controlled manner. We as human beings do not understand the nature and importance of water as a natural resource. When using water for daily uses and other industrial purposes it gets used more than what is required. Domestically when water is used for cooking or cleaning or washing then we generally leave it half closed and wasting the water by every drop that comes out of it. Water crisis is looming in many States of the country, i.e. Chennai, Hyderabad, etc.

This year Chennai faced a crisis of water that shook the conscience of the entire nation and warning signals across the country to save the water and save from the impending crisis that is looming large over the other States in India. Even then also without any heed to the danger we are wasting the water.

With this thought, the GAIA Club got divided into 4 teams on 14th March, 2018, and made posters on different themes like "to switch of the lights when not in use", "do not leave droplets go waste", "Save energy" etc for sticking in the faculty cabins and classrooms for creating awareness.

After making the posters, with the permission of the Director sir, they organised a meeting of the both the faculties and students in the open are in front of the FOL building and explained the cause of saving the electricity and water. From there they have scattered to different spots within the FOL to stick them in the conspicuous places.

Report No Crackers Campaign:

Noise is more than a mere nuisance. At certain levels and durations of exposure, it can cause physical damage to the human ears and result in temporary or permanent hearing loss, known as noise-induced hearing loss.Children living in areas with high levels of noise pollution may suffer from stress and other problems, such as impairments in memory and attention span. Noise pollution controlis therefore important in the workplace and in the community.Noise pollution also impacts wildlife. A wide range of animals, including insects, frogs, birds, and bats, rely on sound for a variety of reasons. Noise pollution can interfere with an animal's ability to attract a mate, communicate, navigate, find food, or avoid predators and thus can even be an existential threat to vulnerable organisms. The problem of noise pollution is especially serious for marine animals, particularly those that rely on echolocation, such as certain whales and dolphins, and much of the world's oceans are polluted with chaotic sounds from ships, seismic tests, and oil drills. Some of the loudest and most detrimental sounds in the sea are from naval sonar devices, whose noise can travel hundreds of miles through the water and is associated with mass strandings of whales and dolphins.

In India Diwali is the time when environment gets most of the sound and air pollution. Sound pollution during this eve affects both the humans as well as the animals. Diwali is a festival of lights but as the time proceeded crackers have become a custom during Diwali with different cracker companies bring in different varieties and sizes of crackers with high decibels of sound. There have been many decisions of the Courts banning the burning the high decibel crackers interfering with the health of both human and animals.

GAIA Club came together to create awareness with regard to the sound pollution during Diwali and taken signatures from all the faculties and students as a vow not to use crackers during Diwali, on 18th October, 2018.

Signature campaign received a huge response from the faculties and students and it did not remain just to the signature the day before Diwali but on the day of Diwali also many students and faculties have carried the meaning of signing the campaign in spirit but simply lighting the house and not using the crackers. It also gives a positive sign that the younger generation in those families are getting a good learning regarding the sound pollution from the nascent stages which will give a positive impact when they grow up.

Report on Cleaning Activity near movie towers.

Sankranti is a second of three day Bhogi/Pongal festival in South India which is celebrated in the month of January. On this second day, as a custom, all people use to fly kites. Some people use to fly kites from their homes or in the open places. Earlier these kites were nylon manjhas but now a days Chinese manjhas are used which is fatal when not disposed properly. After the festival news agencies report the deaths or injuries of both humans and animals due to the Chinese manjhas being stuck on the wires and trees. Movie towers area near Nallagandla is an open space with a scenic beauty of rocks of difference structures. That place is used for the kite festival during the month of January. Aftermath the festival that place is strewn with the manjhas and kites. Threads used for the kite flying keep hanging from the wires. Such threads and kites made of plastic cause injury to the human beings who pass by and also to the birds and animals who inhibit that place. From the past reports were also there regarding the deaths due to the manjha threads that hang from the electric wires. Some times it was also found from the reports that due to the accidents some people have lost their jobs being the sole bread winners of the family due to disability happening from accidents and cuts in the throats.

The dedicated team of students of GAIA- The Environmental Club has under taken a cleaning drive at the movie towers area, on 5-2-2019. GAIA has been collaborated with PRAVRITA Environmental club of CBIT. With a team of 45 members inclusive of three faculty coordinators and students went to that place in the college provided accommodation. Reaching that place entire team got divided into three teams and have undertaken three different areas in that place with gloves to avoid any injury. Each team collected a huge amount of manjhas and kites and collected total of 9 big bags of manjhas and kites and deposited it with the housekeeping personnel's back in college for depositing it with the municipality. During the cleaning drive the student teams have come across the carcasses of birds some of which turned into skeleton and some carcasses were fresh. Other than that during the collection of manjhas team also found that single use plastic were also strewn everywhere. Those single use plastics have also been collected by the students. Students have given a decent burial to the extent they could. After two hours of cleaning, team reached back college premises.

LEGAL AID CLUB EVENT ON 7-11-2019

LEGAL AWARENESS ON CONSUMER RIGHTS

The Legal Aid Centre, Icfai Law School, ICFAI Foundation for Higher Education,(Deemed – to- be University under Section 3 of the UGC Act,1956) has organised Legal Awareness Camp on Consumer Rights on the Campus of IFHE, Hyderabad, dated 07/11/2019 on eve of Legal Literacy Day at 11-30 AM.

The event commenced with the address to villagers by Prof. A.V. Narsimharao, Director, ICFAI Law School highlighting the importance of consumer rights and emphasising resolutions to various problems and issues relating to old age pension, electricity bills, and ration card. He answered most of the queries posed by the villagers in understanding the procedure and technicality of various litigating factors of the cases. He also said that the legal problems of the villagers would be resolved with the help and assistance of our para legal volunteers and advocates.

The Guest of Honor Gopi Kishore, senior advocate, High Court of Telangana, spoke about the rights of consumer in a society and explained about contemporary problems and challenges faced by the consumers. He also pointed out deficiency in service of seeds distributors with regard to providing of low grade seeds to the farmers and carrying out unfair trade practices. He also discussed the technicality with regard to the redressal of problems under the Consumer Protection Act.

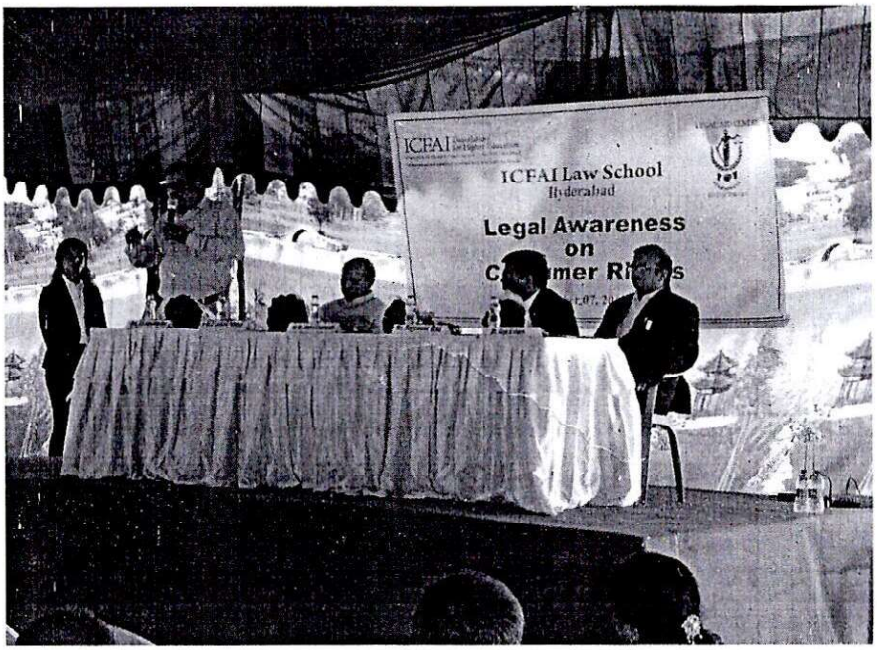

Another Guest of Honor Mr. Rajeswara Rao, Senior Advocate, High Court of Telangana, said that from birth to death, all are consumers. He further explained about the importance of agricultural insurance and medical insurance to the villagers for getting timely redressal.

Report on Save Water Abhiyan at Telangana Model School, Shankarpalli, 28th August, 2019

Water is an essential element of human being and sustains life on earth. It is used for various activities like cleaning, washing, cooking, drinking etc. It is an abundantly available natural resource provided if used in a reasonable and controlled manner. We as human beings do not understand the nature and importance of water as a natural resource. When using water for daily uses and other industrial purposes it gets used more than what is required. Domestically when water is used for cooking or cleaning or washing then we generally leave it half closed and wasting the water by every drop that comes out of it. Water crisis is looming in many States of the country, i.e. Chennai, Hyderabad, etc.

This year Chennai faced a crisis of water that shook the conscience of the entire nation and warning signals across the country to save the water and save from the impending crisis that is looming large over the other States in India. Even then also without any heed to the danger we are wasting the water.

Ensuing the water crisis which the State of Chennai has been then undergoing the GAIA Club of ICFAI has undertaken the task of spreading the awareness of water importance and how life revolves around water and its possible impact on the human life. GAIA Club has collaborated with the cultural club and come with the idea of having a skit to reach the minds and hearts of the students and teachers about the effect of water wastage as it is a domestic issue. GAIA along with the Cultural Club have reached to the Telangana Model School for awareness. We were well received by the school administration. GAIANS have in the time span of two hours enacted a nukad natak consisting of a family where a housewife in one scene while washing the dishes goes to watch a secene in a serial and thereby forgets to close the tap in another scene the son is shown wasting the drinking water after sipping a little from the glass, in quite another scene it was shown that the dead bodies are thrown into the water bodies polluting the water. It very well attracted the attention of the young students regarding the water wastage and it impacts on the human life. The Principal of the school promised to incorporate such practical learning in their school to better understand the students as such less time is not sufficient to get the results.

Report on 5th Regional Consultation on Strengthening and Promoting Law School Clinics in India held on 27th February, 2020

A Workshop on 5th Regional Consultation on Strengthening and Promoting Law School Clinics in India had conducted by Legal Aid Club, ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad, in association with O.P. Jindal Global Law School, Jindal Global University, New Delhi, on 27-02-2020 at ICFAI Law School. Resource person Prof. Ajay Kumar Panday, students and faculty representatives from private law colleges from Hyderabad, Secunderabad, Karimnagar, had participated in this consultation. The participants were presented in the above programme were 46.

The aim of the consultation was to outline the importance of legal aid clinics in Law Schools and the issues that the law school clinics face such as funding, faculty workload and academics credits.

The necessity to strengthen and promote law school clinics (LSCs) in India has its rationale and urgency in several concerns relating to issues of equal access to justice, legal aid, rule of law, governance, human rights etc. These concerns include the quest to make legal education socially relevant and inclusive of masses, while making it an instrument of addressing the disconnect between promises of law and their reality. India has over sixteen hundred law schools.

REGISTRAR
THE ICFAI FOUNDATION FOR HIGHER EDUCATION
(Deemed-to-be-University Under Section 3 of the UGC ACT,1956)

The Indian Constitutional Directive under Article 39A mandates the State to ensure equal opportunities for securing justice to those who are not economically sound by providing free legal aid. Hence, the National Legal Services Authority (NALSA) was constituted to provide free legal aid to the weaker sections of the society. In line with its mission, NALSA is duty bound to promote and strengthen the Clinical Legal Education in India in consultation with the Bar Council of India. Synched with the mission of NALSA, the Bar Council of India Rules, 2008 imposes a responsibility on every Law School in India to establish and run a Legal Aid Clinic. In order to achieve the objective of Clinical Legal Education to impart lawyering skills amongst students and to attain social justice, there is a need that the Law Schools in India are oriented, trained and empowered to successfully run Legal Aid Clinics which is the best way to bridge the gap between the law in books and the law in practice.

Professor Ajay Kumar Pandey had informed to the faculty and students that there is so imminent significance in establishing legal aid clinics in each and every Law school. These clinics are helpful to resolve the legal issues through para legal volunteers. 25 para-legal volunteers were present in the above program.

Nurturing The Young Seeds

In the last week of September, Paritantra Club conducted a plantation drive by name "Nurturing The Young Seeds" whose main objective was to visit different schools and create an awareness among the students about the challenges faced by our country in terms of environment and also to promote the campaign "Swachhta Hi Seva Hai" launched by the Prime Minister of India. The event was conducted in different schools of different villages on three different days. A total of five schools was covered by the members of our club in this plantation drive. The plantation drive was launched on 25th September 2018 at Govt. Primary School, Singapur Village and ended on 28th September 2018 at Govt, High School, Janawada Village.

On the first day of this drive our club visited three different schools listed below

- Govt. Primary School, Singapur Village
- Krishnaveni Talent High School, Shankarpally.
- Revati High School, Shankarpally.

The students and staff of these particular schools welcomed us warmly and showed great enthusiasm to plant trees along with the members of our club. We could cover three different schools in a short span of 2 hours as the students and staff co-operated by our members.

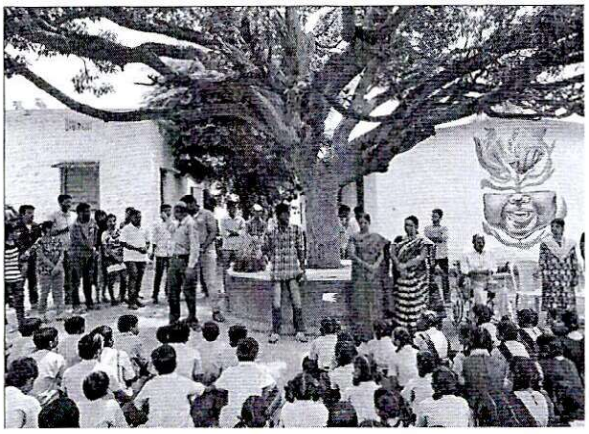

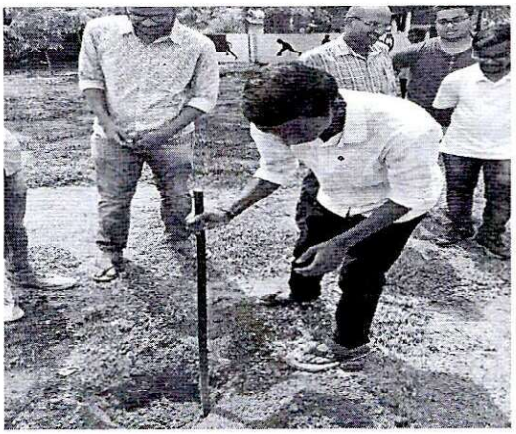

On the second day of this drive we visited Govt. High School, Maharajapet village , where we interacted with students of class I to class X and also had a great time discussions about measures to be taken to protect the environment and it was a great opportunity for us to interact

On the third and final day of this drive we got an opportunity to visit Govt. High School , Janawada village where the students were more enthusiastic to participate in the activity than us. All the students of this school had great knowledge on the environment and they had already taken steps to protect the green cover of their particular village. We look to collaborate with this school in the coming future to conduct more activities ahead.
