

Online Administration Process

There are four main players in this online admission process taken place at IBS. They are as follows.

1. Admin User
2. Faculty User
3. Executive Managers
4. Regional Managers

There are in total 65 Panels and each panel consists of 2 faculty out of which one is host and other is a co panelist. Zoom links are created by the admin user and is shared to defined faculty members accordingly. They schedule the date and time for the students to be allotted in each panel. There are two sessions, Morning session takes place from 10 to 12:30 PM and Afternoon session takes place from 3 to 5:30 PM. Zoom link is assigned to students at the time of login depending on the panel allotment. Students are kept in waiting room till such time.

The Selection process by the Faculty user will take place in 2 different aspects. They are Presentation and Interview process. Weightage for each is 25 marks. Once the process for a candidate is over, they are removed and Next candidate in the waiting room is allowed to enter the room.

In case if the students are not available due to any technical glitches or any other uncertain reasons, Executive managers will follow up with the students and arrange for a new slot and inform to the Faculty parallelly. They act as a bridge between Student candidates and the Panel members. Regional managers take care of the Students details during application process.

PMS User Interface Process Manual

Introduction:

Placement Management Systems (PMS) at IBS introduced a web application for their placement cell that is user-friendly for students. This application seeks to put all stakeholders together on a common forum, including students, faculty, recruiters, placement coordinators, and different departments. This software will keep students updated about the companies visiting the University for an 'On Campus Placement.'

This Placement Management System (PMS) launched at IBS is meticulously designed to aid students in planning their career approach. Campus placement cell serves as an important platform for students to get their first job or start their career in the right place at the right time.

Students can now register online with their placement cell and even list down their ‘dream job companies’. This will allow the University to prepare collect data of students who prefer ‘a particular’ sector of company’. The students can have detailed criteria for which recruiters are looking based on the companies visiting the college campus. They are sent notification with all the details about the company and their required credentials based on their eligibility. The placement cell can prepare the students about the generalised requirements of the organizations in that departments (Marketing/Finance/ HR/ Operations IT/Business Analytics etc) and respective sectors (Consulting/Insurance/Financial services/Marketing research/banking/Manufacturing/ IT/IES etc).

This helps students prepare well for their on campus placement interviews. The PMS also helps to minimize the chances of an company losing a placement position by keeping placement coordinators up to date on the placement status of each student during on-campus placement.

Not only can students benefit from this scheme, but corporations who come to hire students and offer them direct entry to the company will pick the best of the bunch.

The data collected by the PMS in IBS automatically updates the eligible candidates, based on the criteria of Company. This helps the company assess and filter the students and thus plan their potential candidates for the interview. Students are sent information reminding them of the interview dates on a regular basis.

The manual procedure of registering for the campus placement is time consuming and creates trouble for both the students and the University in managing data and information. The purpose of PMS is not only to make the on campus placement process less tiresome but to create one database place for all the information concerning one student.

The PMS allows recruiters to maintain an organized Video resume which is submitted by students. This single application will organize the activities of three bodies, including recruiters, students, and the University, reducing the risk of data loss and duplication. It also keeps track of all of its students' information for potential use by the university and recruitment companies.

Each student of IBS will be allotted a separate login in SIS (Student Information system) that gives them access to this PMS application where they can receive all the information and status report of the on campus placement.

All required information pertaining to recruiting company, their required qualification criteria, their eligibility criteria, list of approaching companies for the campus recruitment, schedule of interview dates as well as online registration is now available from time to time to the students who are registered with the placement cell via the PMS.

Campus placement is one of the most essential stages in a student's life. A compelling decision at this stage helps students achieve their goal in lesser time. IBS has attempted to simplify this decision making process for students to have a successful career at the right place.

SIS User interface Process manual

Introduction:

Student Information Systems (SIS) application launched at IBS is used to manage all the student related academic information. SIS application at IBS allows the students and management to maintain even the minutest details of the student in a highly organized way. From enrolment to handling inquiries, tracking students' progress, sending reminders and notifications, the student information system does it all. The SIS helps to channelize the faculty's workload and stay concentrated on students learning and work towards continuous improvement.

SIS portal helps the students to undergo a hassle-free recruitment and enrolment process. Since it is integrated with the placements Management system, the students get automatic notifications about the recruiters and their job description based on their eligibility criteria. Each student of IBS will be allotted a separate login in SIS (Student Information system) that gives them access to this PMS (Placement Management System) application where they can receive all the information and status report of the on campus placement.

SIS helps to keep track of all the student's activities across the years in one place and maintaining the course related information and Gradings details. The student's portal in SIS benefit he student management. SIS at IBS provides the students to track the schedules, attendances, courses, invoices/payment dues and all the data related to their day to day activities, get notified about placements, grades etc. Also, it helps the management to build the Alumni network, for placements, job referrals and funding.

Academic advising like Information regarding new resources, video lectures, more library resources are provided to the students through SIS. Thereby They get exposed to shifts in attitudes about education and expect greater flexibility in achieving their goals. Intentional interactions by advisors are sure to assess students' progress toward IBS objective. This feature of student information system at IBS has advisors assessing student profiles with precision. They then guide thriving students toward their goals and get at-risk students back on track.

Thereby IBS is able to maintain healthy communication with the stakeholders through its Student Information system. There is a closer interaction between Student – faculty – parents and management for a healthy teaching and learning community. All sorts of communication is sent with an instant integrated messaging and notification tools via emails and messaging.
