Describe the various activities in the Institution for inculcating values for being responsible citizens as reflected in the Constitution of India within 500 words.

The Constitution of India has bestowed fundamental rights in order to accomplish the objectives enshrined in its preamble to secure the social, economic and political justice, liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship, equality of status and opportunity to all its citizens and ensure the life with dignity by fostering the unity and integrity of the nation and also imposing responsibilities and fundamental duties.

The Law school of the University, to hold the spirit of the constitution and spread awareness about the rights and duties among the students, has organized the Lexwalk (constitutional walk) on the occasion of the Constitutional Day, November 26, physically during the years 2018 and 2019. More than 3500 delegates participated representing the student community, advocate fraternity, judicial officers, software companies and general public. During 2020 and 2021, because of the Covid-19 pandemic, the constitutional day has been organized virtually. A, 'Freedom Run' was also organized on the occasion of Republic Day and Independence days physically during 2017, 2018 and 2019 to commemorate the sacrifices of freedom fighters and make the younger generations to understand the freedom struggle and shape them into true citizens of the country. The University also celebrated the birth days of Swamy Vivekananda as 'Youth Day', S Radhakrishnan as the 'Teacher's Day', in addition to the birth days of the Mahatma Gandhi and other well-known leaders to implant the leadership skills into the young minds and frame their future by considering the leaders as their role model. During these events, debate, essay writing and quiz competitions were held to highlight the life principles practiced by the great leaders.

The University, in order to instill the community based learning organized legal aid clinic jointly with District and Mandal Legal Services Authorities towards the access to justice at their door steps. The young students while working with the community and authorities were able to understand the real problems of the village people. They enlightened them about the need for 'swachaatha', protection of environment, plantation of trees, voting rights and consumer rights for the better social, political, economic and technical inclusion of the people living around the institute.

The law school of the University, in order to instill the skills of innovation, creativity, advocacy, lawyering and communication, organized the national level Moot Court Competitions, Mediation and Client Counseling competitions by inviting the students from various law schools and universities. It also organized the ICFAI Conference of Nations, akin the Model United Nations, physically during 2017, 2018, and 2019 and virtually during 2020 and 2021, in order to make the students understand how the Lok Sabha and UN organizations function, debate and take decisions. The Asian Parliamentary Debate is another important event organized during 2017, 2018 & 2019 physically and virtually during 2020 and 2021 to enrich the students about the process of law making. National level cultural, sports and games competitions were also conducted to make students understand the great cultural heritage of India.
